

Service Project: Thank you Notes to Front Line Workers

Ages	Budget	Audience
6 and up	$1	Front Line Staff at Daily Planet Health Services

Why It Is Important
Daily Planet Health Services (DPHS) has more than 120 employees at its three locations. From performing outreach to homeless individuals on the street to checking patients into our clinic to providing care and support in our clinics and residential facilities, most employees work on the front lines for the organization. These jobs can put our staff at higher risk for illness and stress. They work long hours helping thousands of	patients each year deal with one or more challenging or even life-threatening issues, including physical illnesses, mental health and addiction conditions, housing instability and more. We work hard to show our gratitude by making DPHS a great place to work and grow, but it is important that they hear from the community to know that their efforts to keep us all safe are appreciated.
